

K& R provides a practical framework – the Negotiation Success Range™ (NSR) – which will enable you to more effectively organize and lead your team through client negotiations.

Negotiate Wisely in Business and Technology

As A Sales Professional

How do you prepare for your negotiations? When do you believe negotiations actually begin? How do you proactively manage executive involvement on opportunities where the executive will inevitably get involved? How do you manage your value discussions when it seems the client is only interested in price? What can you do to focus the prospect on the value that your solution provides, not just price? This module will address a few common situations that impact the role in negotiations, whether internally or externally. You will learn how to use negotiation alternatives that maximize value, minimize discounting and accelerate closing.

Mastering Negotiation Skills

Your business clients and prospects are good negotiators and demonstrate confidence through consistent success and positive results negotiating against you and your support teams. They know how to use the calendar, period business performance and prior transactions to get lower prices and better terms. They often minimize the value of your unique solution. They leverage prior pricing levels and terms as their initial offers. They are clever and very effective as they often “divide to conquer” your organization.

Negotiation Success Range

K&R provides a practical framework — The Negotiation Success Range™ (NSR), which will enable you to more effectively organize and lead your team through client negotiations. This NSR™ guides you and your team to set the boundaries of the negotiation; functionality, terms and conditions and pricing. This simple to use methodology truly changes your behavior and the structure you put around opportunities. The NSR™ guides you to the point where not only are both parties satisfied, but they also can succeed under the terms of the agreement.

Learn How to Neutralize Your Clients' Arguments

K&R's Opportunity Forensics™ provides enhanced analysis, facts and recommendations on individual opportunities and also provides solution value Gap Analysis. This enables you to focus and create unique value which builds a strong business case for the prospects' investment in your solution.

The K&R MID™

The K&R MID™ — This chart assists the sales representatives to prioritize the components of the solution. This tool helps distinguish between Mandatory, Important and Desirable elements in a negotiation. K&R stresses the importance of using Principled concessions™ whenever you change the solution, pricing, terms or conditions of a proposal. The definition being: a concession made with business rationale related to value. At the conclusion of this course, sales representatives will be able to:

- Know when—and when not—to negotiate
- Develop an effective plan and strategy for any negotiation
- Know what behavior to adopt at each stage of the negotiation
- Adjust their communication style to achieve desired results
- Successfully apply the principles of persuasion to any negotiation situation
- Apply effective negotiating skills face-to-face, on the telephone or through e-mail and other media
- Recognize and counter the most common negotiation tactics
- Move from “no” to “maybe” to “yes”

Learn concepts and techniques to develop and articulate quantified value. Foster more effective internal teamwork and improve negotiation results for the entire sales team. Whether you are calling on Fortune 100 or small to medium businesses, the goals are simple: close sooner, with higher revenue and profit.
